About Us

Ulverscroft Digital is a division of Ulverscroft Large Print Books Limited (“ULPB”, “We”). We are registered in England and Wales under company number 1068776 and with our registered office at The Green, Bradgate Road, Anstey, Leicester LE7 7FU. Our VAT number is GB 620 3102 12. ULPB forms part of Ulverscroft Group Limited.

The company was created in 1964. Our main office is in the delightful village of Anstey, in rural England, and we have offices in Australia, Ireland, New Zealand, UK and USA.

We specialise in publishing unabridged large print and unabridged audio books and supplying these to public libraries worldwide as shelf-ready copies. We also distribute eBooks to public libraries.

The rights to all titles published by Ulverscroft Group companies in large print and audio are exclusive to us in the agreed territories.

We publish in all the popular genres within the Fiction and Non-Fiction categories and include all the best known authors.

Our unabridged audio books are recorded, edited, and duplicated in-house at our studios in Oxford and Whitley Bay, England, using professional actors, many of whom have appeared in popular TV series and films.

We currently publish 60 titles per month in large print and 36 titles per month in unabridged audio. Our audio books have won numerous awards including the prestigious Audies[®] award in the USA. All our audio books are available to libraries in cassette, CD and MP3-CD format with many also available as unabridged downloads, known as eAudio.

In addition to our own titles we also supply other publishers’ titles to libraries worldwide.

We have developed our own software platform to enable your library to acquire our eAudio and eBooks in a downloadable format. We also have a free app available from the iTunes store and Google PlayStore.

Please contact your library staff with any questions regarding the provision of our downloadable audio books.

We sincerely hope our audio books give you many hours of listening pleasure.
